Diagnostic and Interventional Endoscopy

FROM THE EDITOR

Endoscopic imaging technologies and new endoscopic techniques are developing in all over the world. Many valuable manuscripts including endoscopic diagnostic and therapeutic techniques may not meet with an international journal even deserving. It is clear that an additional international journal is needed which specifically focus on endoscopic diagnosis of gastrointestinal diseases and endoscopic therapeutic procedures.

On behalf of Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (Turkey), it is my honor to announce the first issue of Diagnostic and Interventional Endoscopy (Diagn Interv Endosc). Diagn Interv Endosc, the official journal of Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (Turkey), is an open access, online-only and triannually published in accordance with double-blinded peer-review principles. The publication language of the journal is English. All published content is available online, free of charge at the journal website. One of the most important aim of the journal is to publish high quality manuscripts and also to be indexed in Science Citation Index, PubMed/MEDLINE, Scopus and TUBITAK ULAKBIM TR Index. Original article, review, case report, letter to the editor, and image of the month will be published.

Finally, many thanks to the Turkish Society of Gastroenterology since all expenses of the journal are covered by the Turkish Society of Gastroenterology.

Best regards

Prof. Dr. Fatih Tekin
